ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Handique Girls' College is situated in the heart of Guwahati on the western bank of the picturesque and historic Dighalipukhuri. It is one of the oldest Colleges in the north eastern region of India, for girls. The College was established by late Rajabala Das, who was also its first Principal. This visionary lady was convinced that in a country striving to achieve independence, nationhood would require women to occupy their rightful place in the society and that education for women was a priority. The courage of her convictions saw Guwahati Girls' College begin in the premises of Panbazar Girls' High School, in 1939, with just two students on its rolls. In her endeavour to further the cause of women's education, Rajabala Das had the support of the late Radha Kanta Handique, who made generous contributions towards setting up of the College in its present campus, in 1940. It was affiliated to Calcutta University in the same year. The College was later renamed as Handique Girls' College in acknowledgement of the support received from this great philanthropist.

Handique Girls' College is a heritage institution with an eighty-four year history of promoting higher education for women. As an affiliated college under the Gauhati University, it has attained high standards of learning, and its students have borne this out by consistently shining the calling they have found for themselves. The first Women's College in the State has a justified claim to be upgraded to a University and the Government of Assam has been generous in acknowledging this claim.

The College is a provincialized College under the Government of Assam with 20 (twenty) teaching departments offering courses in the Arts and Sciences. Four of these Departments also offer postgraduate courses. The institute is also recognised by the UGC under section 2(f) and 12(B). At present, there are around 2500 students enrolled in the programs of study that are there in the College. Research activities with faculty members involved in funded projects and supervision of Ph.D. students is a part of the academic activity in the College, as is undergraduate research. The College also has an enviable track record in extra-and co-curricular activities, which it supports in keeping with its articulated mission of providing a 'holistic' education for women.
