Book Reading Session Report

Between the Covers, the Book Club of the Department of English, organizes sessions twice a year. These sessions aim to engage students in an in-depth analysis of literary texts that are not part of the prescribed syllabus. The club cultivates reading habits, stimulates creativity, and fosters critical and analytical skills among students. It also provides a platform for lively and meaningful group discussions.

A book reading session was held on 15 September 2025 for the students
